

Preface

(created by: Rachel Robelli- UF SLP Grad Student)

This PowerPoint Book is designed for children on the autism spectrum, to give them a framework for their Thanksgiving day. It includes who they might see, how they might get there, and what to expect during and after their Thanksgiving meal with their family. This book also gives the child and caregiver the opportunity to fill in their own blanks. For example, they can put in pictures of family members they will see. This lets the child know what to expect and gives them a visual layout for transitions throughout the day. The goal is for the child and caregiver to read through the book and fill in the blanks so the child will be prepared for the holiday!

My Thanksgiving

By: _____

We celebrate Thanksgiving in November.

On Thanksgiving we visit with family. This may include mom, dad, brothers, sisters, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins.

On Thanksgiving I will see

Some people have to travel to see their family. They may travel by car or airplane to see their family.

We will travel by _____ to see my family.

On Thanksgiving families cook large meals and sit at a table to eat together.

On Thanksgiving I might eat

During meal time everyone stays in their seat.

After eating, some families watch football.

After eating, we will

Happy Thanksgiving!
